WHAT IS A LAND TRUST?

Land Trusts are local, grass-roots, non-profit conservation organizations directly involved in protecting natural, scenic, recreational, agricultural, historic or cultural lands.

LAND TRUSTS

Receive lands in whole through donations, life estates or purchases, and hold conservation easements.

Preserve, monitor and manage protected land.

Work in partnership with private entities, governmental and environmental agencies and local communities.

HERE IS HOW YOU CAN CONTRIBUTE

- Become a member of the WLCT
- Participate in environmental monitoring
- Help with trail maintenance
- Participate in special events
- Join the Board of Directors

WARREN LAND CONSERVATION TRUST

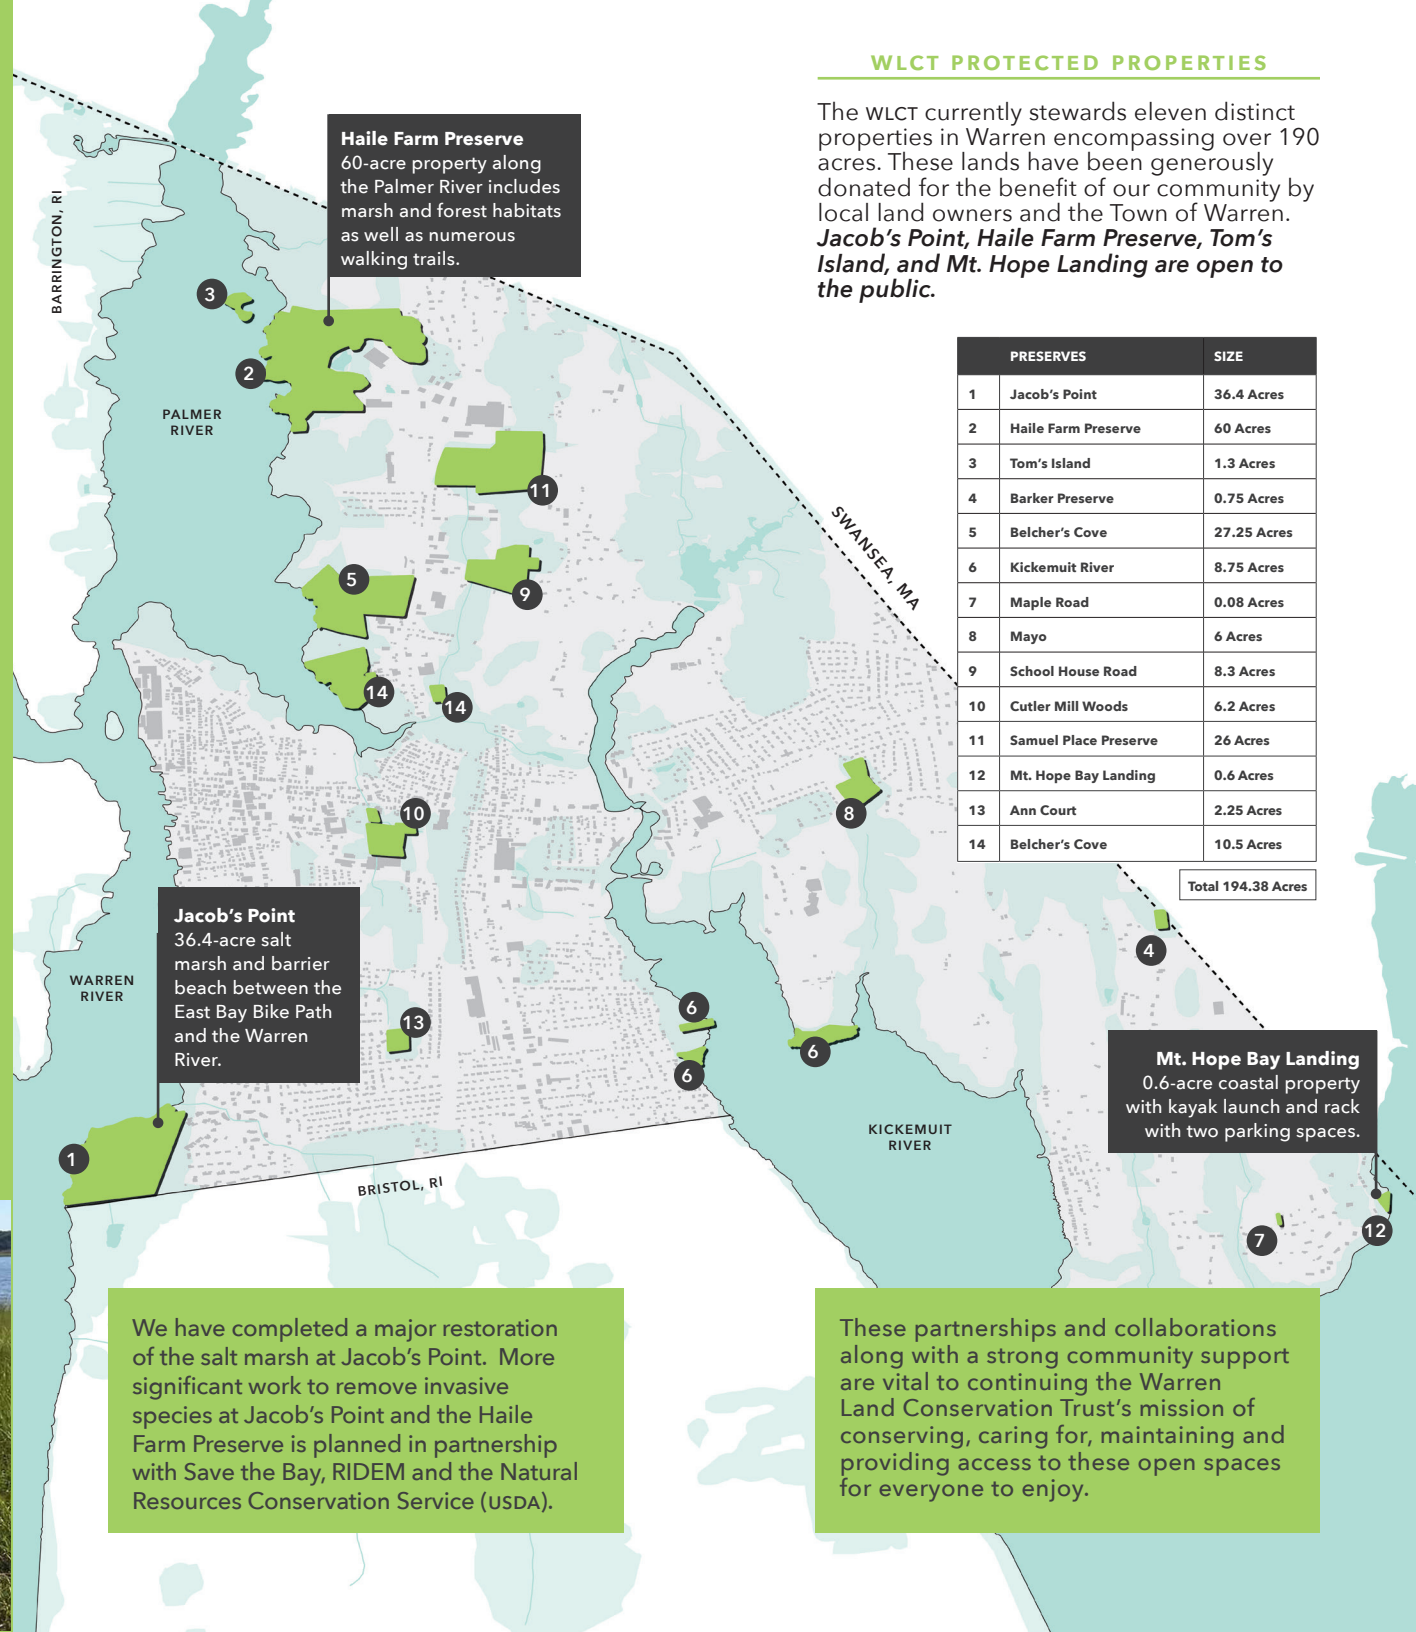

The WLCT is a private, non-profit organization founded in 1987 to preserve open places in Warren and keep that land protected FOREVER.

We are self governing and independent from town government. Land that we acquire is held in trust for the benefit of our community to enjoy!

The Warren Land Conservation Trust's volunteer board preserves and stewards Warren's natural resources, including:

WETLANDS
WOODLANDS
FARMLANDS
PLANT + ANIMAL HABITATS
UNIQUE NATURAL + SCENIC SITES

Our goal is to preserve and protect Warren's entire natural environment for future generations.

We have completed a major restoration of the salt marsh at Jacob's Point. More significant work to remove invasive species at Jacob's Point and the Haile Farm Preserve is planned in partnership with Save the Bay, RIDEM and the Natural Resources Conservation Service (USDA).

These partnerships and collaborations along with a strong community support are vital to continuing the Warren Land Conservation Trust's mission of conserving, caring for, maintaining and providing access to these open spaces for everyone to enjoy.
